

YANKEES WIN FIRST SERIES GAME

EXPECT 80,000 AT OPENING OF SERIES GAMES IN NEW YORK

Walker Tosses First Ball;
Weather Is Fair
And Crisp.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—This is the day on which some 80,000 people who like a baseball game better than they like five dollars will try to cram themselves into the Yankee stadium and eat a carload of peanuts.

And while they are doing it other people, numbered by the millions, gathered around newspaper scoreboards, in theaters and at the radio, will follow the doings with almost as much eagerness and enthusiasm as if they themselves were there.

For this is the first day of the world's series—a sort of unofficial holiday for wealthy employers and for office boys with sickly grandmothers; and for a goodly proportion of those classes of American citizenry which are ranged in between.

Exactly at 1:30 p. m. the big show is scheduled to start. A few minutes before that hour, it all goes well. Mayor James J. Walker of New York will toss out the first ball; then an umpire will probably announce that Sherdel will pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals and Hoyt for the New York Yankees—those being the teams, by the way, which are going to play—and then the game will be on.

The weather man has promised conditions well high for such an affair. There was an early morning tingle in the air, which whispered a little of frost and gave promise of a clear, cool, crisp afternoon. The prophets said there wouldn't be much breeze to twist sky balls off their course or to hamper with headwinds any long drives which Babe Ruth or others might chance to send sailing far and away.

Last week when the pennant race in the two leagues were at their height, New York was wild with baseball frenzy. Then, when it was all settled, things quieted down, and last night down town one had to look for an excited fan. Apparently all the bets had been laid, the thing pretty well talked out and everyone was content to await the decision on the field.

But there was another reason for this quietude. The real dyed-in-the-wool ball fan is not the man who lives in handsome hotels. There one finds just the folks who run the show. The baseball fanatics were in thousands of homes last night all over the city, nursing tickets which they had paid five dollars for.

Others were out before the sun was up this morning, threading over the elevated and the subways to

ELYRIA GRAND JURY CONVENES AGAIN; MAY PREPARE REPORT

ELYRIA, Oct. 4.—Possibility of the Lorain County grand jury reporting its findings in the Lorain City vice probe was seen today as the jurors were reporting for duty after a one-day vacation.

Prosecutor D. A. Baird, maintaining the silence that has enveloped him throughout the probe, declined to say whether the grand jury was reconvening to continue its probe or to make its report.

The investigation was precipitated by the shooting on the night of Sept. 26 of Miss Betty Heywood, 22, of Elyria, by three Lorain city dry agents. In the probe of the shooting, Prosecutor Baird uncovered charges of alleged deplorable crime conditions in Lorain.

A state probe into conditions at Lorain depends upon the action taken by the grand jury.

JACK HENDRICKS SEES VICTORY FOR CARDINALS IN BIG SERIES

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and one of the most astute judges of baseball in the game, will report the world series for the United Press as he has for the past several seasons.

Hendricks' first article follows: By JACK HENDRICKS, Manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Written for The United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The St. Louis Cardinals have a great ball club, and should win the world series, perhaps in five games.

It would not surprise me to see them take four out of five from the New York Yankees who are most unfortunately crippled by injuries.

Naturally, I am a National League fan. My heart and interest are in the circuit, but this year I can see nothing except the prospect of a clean cut, convincing victory over the American League champions.

My club met the Cardinals twenty-two times this year, and we know how good they are. Pitching always the most important factor in a world series, favors St. Louis by as much as two to one, I should say.

There is no use in belittling the possibility of a Yankee batting rampage, and when it comes it is one of the hardest things in baseball to stop. I think, however, that the Cardinals have just what is needed to stop it this year, even if it shows up.

The chances of the Yankees putting their full offensive strength into the field are slight indeed. On the other hand, the Cardinals will have the team which fought its way to the top in one of the greatest of National League pennant races, and had the stuff to stay there.

Alexander, Haines, Sherdel, Rhem and Mitchell, after that they showed this season, should be able to tie the weakened Yankees into knots.

A St. Louis victory seems inevitable; a victory in five games at the outside is what I look for.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Prospects of 100,000 persons assembling in Elizabethton, Tennessee, Saturday for the first and last Herbert Hoover campaign speech south of the Mason Dixon line led to amplification of arrangements today at personal headquarters of the Republican presidential nominee.

The journey upon which the nominee will embark from here Friday night will mark the first invasion of the south by a Republican presidential candidate in modern political history.

In honor of the occasion special trains are to be run from surrounding southern states and 2,000 acres have been set aside beyond the city limits to accommodate motorists, who are expected from Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. Five hundred police have been drafted to direct traffic.

The speakers' stand is being erected in the center of the foot of a high mountain and a pageant will be held there before Hoover speaks. The pageant will commemorate the assembling of mountain farmers for the battle of Kings' Mountain in the Revolutionary War. Kings' Mountain is only forty miles away.

The meeting will have an industrial significance too, as a silk mill which will ultimately employ 25,000 persons is to be dedicated. Late in the day Hoover will journey ten miles to the Soldiers' Home at Johnson City where he will make a second important speech. He will attend a dinner to be given by the Chamber of Commerce of Johnson City before boarding his train for the return trip to Washington.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—Coleman Avery, Cincinnati, former judge of the State Supreme Court, made public a letter here today in which he explained his reasons for refusing to contribute to funds for the Ohio Anti-Saloon League political campaign.

Judge Avery, chairman of a committee supporting Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati vet advocate, for the Democratic short term U. S. senatorial nomination, addressed the letter to Howard H. Russell, Westerville, who appeared for the contribution, and said:

"I do not desire to assist in continuing the intolerable condition that now exists by contributing to your coffers or campaign fund. I agree with you that a tragic crisis is here, but to my notion it is not the crisis you have in mind. I cannot concur with you that the election of Governor Smith as president would be the dire disaster you are desirous of depicting. On the contrary, I think that it might have a very wholesome influence for future good."

With regard to the so-called "yellow peril," Lord Riddell said that if it were to be interpreted in the sense of the yellow races sweeping down on the white populations of the world, then such a peril never existed, to his mind. There might be seen what one might call a "yellow peril," however, he added, in the growing far eastern commercial and industrial competition.

Lord Riddell expressed his views during a discussion of the world's future peace prospects. The conversation occurred on the lawn of Lord Riddell's vastlands at Watlington Heath near London.

"I would suggest," Lord Riddell said, "that all the nations of the world cut down their armaments and their defensive forces, say, by one per cent annually, until such time as an appropriate limit has been reached."

A moment later he expressed in quick succession a kaleidoscopic series of opinions on varying subjects. Thus, his ideas on America's future relation with Japan led to a general talk on the so-called "yellow peril."

"I do not visualize a possible Nippon-American war," he began, "after all, it is hardly likely that Japan should ever try to 'occupy' such a vast territory and one which is so distant from its own land."

"I rather think that if any trouble is to come from the east, it will be more likely to be in the direction of Manchuria and I believe even that may be avoided by a careful watch on communistic propaganda."

YANKEES WIN FIRST SERIES GAME

EXPECT 80,000 AT
OPENING OF SERIES
GAMES IN NEW YORK

Walker Tosses First Ball;
Weather Is Fair
And Crisp.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—This is the day on which some 80,000 people who like a baseball game better than they like five dollars will try to cram themselves into the Yankee stadium and eat a carload of peanuts.

And while they are doing it other people, numbered by the millions, gathered around newspaper scoreboards, in theaters and at the radio, will follow the doings with almost as much eagerness and enthusiasm as if they themselves were there.

For this is the first day of the world series—a sort of unofficial holiday for wealthy employers and for office boys with sickly grandmothers; and for a goodly proportion of those classes of American citizenry which are ranged in between.

Exactly at 1:30 p. m. the big show is scheduled to start. A few minutes before that hour, if all goes well, Mayor James J. Walker of New York will toss out the first ball; then an umpire will probably announce that Sherdel will pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals and Hoyt for the New York Yankees—those being the teams, by the way, which are going to play—and then the game will be on.

The weather man has promised conditions well high ideal for such an affair. There was an early morning fog in the air, which cleared a little of fog and gave promise of a clear, cool, crisp afternoon. The prophets said there wouldn't be much breeze to twist ball's off their course or to hamper with headwinds any long drives which Babe Ruth or others might chance to send sailing far and away.

Last week when the pennant races in the two leagues were at their height, New York was wild with baseball frenzy. Then, when it was all settled, things quieted down, and last night down town one had to look for an excited fan. Apparently all the bets had been laid, the thing pretty well talked out and everyone was content to await the decision on the ball field.

But there was another reason for this quietude. The real dyed-in-the-wool ball fan is not the man who lives in handsome hotels. There one finds just the folks who run the show. The baseball fanatics were in thousands of homes last night all over the city, nursing tickets which they had paid fine prices to the scalpers during the day.

Others were out before the sun was up this morning, threading over the elevated and the subways to

INSTALLMENT PLAN
DISARMAMENT NOW URGED BY BRITISHER

Lord Riddell Suggests 1 Per Cent Cut Every Year.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Disarmament plan is advocated by Lord Riddell, millionaire peer, newspaper owner and philanthropist. Lord Riddell represented the British press at the Washington disarmament conference in 1921.

Lord Riddell expressed his views during a discussion of the world's future peace prospects. The discussion occurred on the lawn of Lord Riddell's vastlands at Walton Heath near London.

"I would suggest," Lord Riddell said, "that all the nations of the world cut down their armaments and their defensive forces, say, by one per cent annually, until such time as an appropriate limit has been reached."

A moment later he expressed in quick succession a kaleidoscopic series of opinions on varying subjects. Thus, his ideas on America's future relation with Japan led to a general talk on the so-called "yellow peril."

"I do not visualize a possible Nippon-American war," he began, "after all, it is hardly likely that Japan should ever try to occupy such a vast territory and one which is so distant from its own land."

"I rather think that if any trouble is to come from the east, it will be more likely to be in the direction of Manchuria, and I believe even that may be avoided by a careful watch on communist propaganda."

ELYRIA GRAND JURY CONVENES
AGAIN; MAY PREPARE REPORT

ELYRIA, Oct. 4.—Possibility of the Lorain County grand jury reporting its findings in the Lorain City vice probe was seen today as the jurors were reporting for duty after a one-day vacation.

Prosecutor D. A. Baird, maintaining the silence that has governed him throughout the probe, declined to say whether the grand jury was reconvening to continue its probe or to make its report. The investigation was precipitated by the shooting on the night of Sept. 26 of Miss Betty Heywood, 22, of Elyria, by three Lorain city dry agents. In the probe of the shooting, Prosecutor Baird uncovered charges of alleged deplorable crime conditions in Lorain.

JACK HENDRICKS SEES VICTORY FOR CARDINALS IN BIG SERIES

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and one of the most astute judges of baseball in the game, will report the world series for the United Press as he has for the past several seasons.

Hendricks' first article follows: By JACK HENDRICKS, Manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Written for the United Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The St. Louis Cardinals have a great ball club, and should win the world series, perhaps in five games.

It would not surprise me to see them take four out of five from the New York Yankees who are most unfortunately crippled by injuries.

Extend Arrangements For Hoover Talk At Elizabethton

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Prospects of 100,000 persons assembling in Elizabethton, Tennessee, Saturday for the first and last Herbert Hoover campaign speech south of the Mason Dixon line led to amplification of arrangements today at personal headquarters of the Republican presidential nominee.

The journey upon which the nominee will embark from here Friday night will mark the first invasion of the south by a Republican presidential candidate in modern political history.

In honor of the occasion special trains are to be run from surrounding southern states and 2,000 acres have been set aside beyond the city limits to accommodate motorists, who are expected from Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. Five hundred police have been drafted to direct traffic.

The speakers' stand is being erected in the open at the foot of a high mountain and a large tent will be held there before Hoover speaks. The pageant will commemorate the assembling of mountain farmers for the battle of Kings' Mountain in the Revolutionary War. Kings' Mountain is only forty miles away.

The meeting will have an industrial significance too, as a silk mill which will ultimately employ 25,000 persons is to be dedicated.

Late in the day Hoover will journey ten miles to the Soldiers' Home at Johnson City where he will make a second important speech. He will attend a dinner to be given by the Chamber of Commerce of Johnson City before boarding his train for the return trip to Washington.

LEAGUE REBUKED BY FORMER OHIO JUDGE

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—Coleman Avery, Cincinnati, former judge of the State Supreme Court, made public a letter here today in which he explained his reasons for refusing to contribute to funds for the Ohio Anti-Saloon League political campaign.

Judge Avery, chairman of a committee supporting Graham P. Hunt, Cincinnati wet advocate, for the Democratic short term U. S. senatorial nomination, addressed the letter to Howard H. Russell, Westerville, who appeared for the prohibitionists.

"I do not desire to assist in continuing the intolerable condition that now exists by contributing to your coffers or campaign fund. I agree with you that a tragic crisis is here, but to my notion it is not the crisis you have in mind. I cannot concur with you that the election of Governor Smith as president would be the dire disaster you are desirous of depicting. On the contrary, I think that it might have a very wholesome influence for future good."

BREAKS RECORD

Naturally, I am a National League fan. My heart and interest are in the circuit, but this year I can see nothing except the prospect of a clean cut, convincing victory over the American League champions.

My club met the Cardinals twenty-two times this year, and we know how good they are. Pitching, always the most important factor in a world series, favors St. Louis by as much as two to one, I should say.

There is no use in belittling the possibility of a Yankee batting rampage, and when it comes it is one of the hardest things in baseball to stop. I think, however, that the Cardinals have just what is needed to stop it this year, even if it shows up.

The chances of the Yankees putting their full offensive strength into the field are slight indeed. On the other hand, the Cardinals will have the team which fought its way to the top in one of the greatest of National League pennant races, and had the stuff to stay there.

Alexander, Haines, Sherdel, Rhem and Mitchell, after that they showed this season, should be able to tie the weakened Yankees into knots.

St. Louis victory seems inevitable; a victory in five games at the outside is what I look for.

TWO RADIO CHAINS BROADCAST GAMES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Radio broadcasting stations from coast to coast will be joined to a microphone installed in Yankee stadium this afternoon for the broadcasting of the first world series game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees.

Thirty-eight stations of the National Broadcasting Co., in a national hook-up will broadcast the play-by-play description of Graham McNamee, veteran announcer. The network will be linked up at 1:10 p. m. Eastern time, for a description of the crowds and other features incidental to the opening game. Play will be called at 1:30 p. m.

The twenty-six stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System will carry the description of J. Andrew White, also a veteran broadcaster of sporting events. The Columbia chain will go on the air at 1:15 p. m. Eastern time.

NAME COMMITTEE TO REPEAL OLD LAWS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—Gilbert Morgan, state representative from Cuyahoga County who has made a reputation for himself through activities in searching the general code for old laws which should be repealed because they no longer have application, has been appointed chairman of the committee for elimination of obsolete laws of the Ohio State Bar Association by President John A. Elden, Cleveland.

Other members of the committee are William Pringle, Cleveland; John Glantz, Ashtabula; Meyer Gordon, Lorain; Oliver G. Bailey, Cincinnati; Price Janson, Canton; Herman Seikel, Dover; Clarence Fisher, Canton; Joe M. Downs, Columbus; James Simmons, Geneseo; Grant Mouser, Jr., Columbus; and Marion J. Joe, Nueces, Cleveland and Joseph Dinsmore, Cincinnati.

YOUNG SLAYER WILL PAY ON GALLOWES

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 4.—Charles Shader, youthful murderer and notorious jail breaker, must go to the gallows here October 10 to pay with his life for the murder of a prison official, it was ruled by the state supreme court.

Shader was the youngest of seven convicts who escaped from Stateville prison several years ago after killing Deputy Warden Peter Klein.

Three of the seven men already have been hanged. One of the men never was captured after the original break. Shader and another escaped in two later attempts.

FOUR MURDERED IN NICARAGUAN CITY

MANAGUA, NICARAGUA, Oct. 4.—Four murders, believed to be of political origin, occurred on the night of September 30 at San Marcos, about fifteen miles southwest of Jinotega, it became known here today.

The four men murdered were propagandists for the Liberal party and one of them was Juan Carlos Mendita, a prominent lawyer of Managua.

None of the bodies gave indications of robbery and this led authorities to believe that the murders had been committed as a result of the tension of the presidential race.

SMITH AND HOOVER AGREE ON DRY ISSUE

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 4.—Herbert Hoover and Gov. Alfred E. Smith apparently have identical the same views on prohibition. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic nominee for vice-president, said in his third Oklahoma address here last night.

"I agree with every word of Hoover's acceptance of prohibition as a means of maintaining law and order," Robinson said, "and do not understand that Gov. Smith takes any different view."

Burton And Newton Baker Debate Merits Of Hoover And Smith

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 4.—The respective merits of Governor Alfred E. Smith and Herbert Hoover, the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates, were debated before 5,000 persons here last night by former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, ardent Smith supporter, and Congressman Burton, who was partly responsible to Hoover's candidacy.

"I do not like Governor Smith's connection with Tammany Hall," Congressman Burton said in opening. He then told of the trial of "Boss" Tweed of Tammany Hall whom he characterized as "the greatest thief of all time, who was finally convicted and died in prison."

"Tammany Hall may have gone through some kind of evolution since then," Burton said, "but down to this day Tammany Hall is an organization which I cannot commend to the people. Under successive bosses there has been the same regime, it is not of open corruption, of secret grafty minutes and Baker who was secretary of war during the Woodrow Wilson administration, began.

"I had not intended to refer to so-called corruption," he said, "but I am sure my good friend Burton will pardon me if I point to the fact that he goes back into history sixty years when he discusses Boss Tweed."

"Tweed died in jail where he was sent by a Democratic lawyer, sixty years ago."

"When you call the roll of my brethren you do not go back sixty years. Only eight years ago—and you have not merely Albert B.

CHOOSES DEATH FOR HERSELF AND THREE CHILDREN; FOILED

Two Other Daughters
Recover From Poisoned
Ice Cream

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 4.—A young mother was in the prison ward of City Hospital here today, accused of killing one of her three little daughters and attempting to end her own life and those of the other two children with poisoned ice cream.

She is Mrs. Anna Kempf, 28, who became estranged from her husband three months ago and chose death for herself and her children, rather than face a life of poverty.

Baby Mary, the youngest of the daughters, died early this morning. The other two, Julia, 7, and Margaret, 6, were recovering. Mrs. Kempf's condition is critical.

Detectives said murder charges would be filed against the woman if she recovers.

Mrs. Kempf told Detective Sergeant Patrick Ryan that she mixed rat exterminator with the ice cream which she bought with the last money she had. She said she had tried almost without avail, to keep her little family together.

Kempf was the object of a police search today. He is the father of the girl who died. The other children are Mrs. Kempf's by a former marriage.

Mrs. Kempf has been living with her mother, Mrs. Julia Baber, 50, in serving the poisoned ice cream, she prepared a special dish of non-poisonous cream for her mother, she said. She put the children to bed and spent the next two hours walking the streets. When she became ill she returned home and found the children sick and crying.

Mrs. Kempf said she intended to commit suicide by throwing herself in front of a car but couldn't stand to leave the children.

Detectives said murder charges would be filed against the woman if she recovers.

SMITH PREPARES TO GO DIRECTLY SOUTH ON CAMPAIGN JAUNT

Speech In Tennessee Will Probably Be First Of Trip.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith's next two campaign trips will be more "Brown Derby" affairs than his western trips.

He can wear only one derby at a time, but he will appear in more often. The Democratic candidate is arranging his schedule so that he will have more time to mix with the people on his forthcoming tour through the border states and the middle west. Speeches will not be so close together.

Smith will leave here next Sunday night or Monday for New York and there will board the campaign train, which is now in New York for direct south, with a speech first in North Carolina or Tennessee, most likely the latter, regarded as a "double" state. He may speak at Chattanooga.

He is then expected to go to Kentucky for a speech, probably in Louisville, then to Sedalia, Mo., and north to Chicago and Cleveland. The program has not been worked out definitely. It will be announced within a day or two. The last week of the campaign will be in the east.

Smith will rest here at the mansion until he leaves for New York, but will strike at his Republican opponents from his retreat when the occasion offers, as he did when he criticized Hoover's campaign plan yesterday.

He said Hoover had no plan in commenting upon the endorsement of the Republican candidate and his farm relief program by B. F. Yeakum, a Democrat and formerly interested in western railroads. Yeakum, now president of the Empire Bond and Mortgage Corporation of New York City, was present at a congress.

Hoover, Smith said, says the tariff is the foundation of farm relief, adding "every student of the subject and every farm leader takes a directly opposite view." The tariff, he argued, does not operate where there is an exportable surplus.

Both speakers refrained from discussing religion as a campaign issue. They agreed that religion should play no part and that Governor Smith and Hoover are men of exceptional ability. Both agreed that prohibition enforcement is not effective, but they disagreed on everything else.

"A great, vibrant personality, a great human soul, a man with a feeling for humanity, a man with idealism—Governor Smith," said Baker.

"The man who was savior of stranded Americans in the war zone, head of the Belgian relief and food administration, guide of business at home, and foreign trade, man in charge of Mississippi and Vermont flood control—Herbert Hoover," said Burton.

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The New York Yankees, underdog of the pre-world series information, rebuked the dopsters with a rousing 4 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the opening game here today.

It was young Waite Hoyt, the "perennial school-boy" who subdued the heavy artillery of the National League champions and reversed the opinions of the experts who had figured the weakened American Club practically defeated before it started.

The "kid" pitcher, veteran of other world series games, was master of the situation most of the way, using the strike-out when it was necessary. The vicious Jim Bottomley smacked a homer off his delivery for the only Cardinal run and he permitted the Cards but three hits, two of them going to Bottomley.

He was opposed by Bill Sherdel, who also pitched ably, but whose brilliant work was undone by long hits. The Yankees made their hits count, although they obtained but four off Sherdel. Johnson, who relieved him in the eighth, yielded three singles and a run. The Cardinals threatened in the ninth, but Hoyt bared down to subdue them.

The victory gave the Yanks the edge on the series.

FIRST INNING
St. Louis—Douthitt out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. High lifted a short fly to Paschal. Koenig tossed out Frisch at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Hafey gathered in Paschal's high fly. Koenig was also retired on a fly to Hafey. Babe Ruth lined a double between center and right field. Gehrig

SECOND INNING
St. Louis—Bottomley walked. Hafey struck out. Harper raised a long fly to Paschal. Wilson rolled to Hoyt, who retired him at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Hafey took Lazzeri's long fly after a sharp run. Dugan out. Frisch to Bottomley. Frisch made a nice play on Bengough's grounder over second and tossed him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING
St. Louis—Ruth camped under Maranville's fly. Dugan took Sherdel's high foul fly. Bengough made a sensational catch of Douthitt's difficult foul fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Maranville raced over into left field and caught Hoyt's foul fly with his gloved hand stretched over a field box. Paschal lofted to Douthitt. Koenig grounded out. Frisch to Bottomley. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING
St. Louis—High fanned, swinging. Frisch fouled out to Bengough. Gehrig took Bottomley's grounder and then beat him in a race to the bag. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Ruth fouled batted second and left, his second two-base hit of the game. Sherdel tossed out Gehrig at first. Ruth holding second. Meusel hit a home run far up in the right field stands, Ruth scoring ahead of him. Lazzeri out on a foul fly to Wilson. Dugan popped to Maranville. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING
St. Louis—Hafey struck out. Harper got the first Cardinal hit, a single to left. Wilson forced Harper at second, Lazzeri to Koenig. Wilson died stealing. Bengough to Koenig. No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Frisch came in fast on Bengough's slow roller and barely got his man at first. Hoyt out. Frisch to Bottomley. Paschal drove a fly to right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING
St. Louis—Ruth had no trouble with Maranville's easy fly. Sherdel was a strikeout victim. Douthitt received a base on balls. High lined to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Koenig bunted to the box and Sherdel, after falling down, threw him out while on his knees. Ruth was called out on strikes. Frisch tossed out Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING
St. Louis—Durocher replaced Lazzeri at second for the Yanks. Frisch out, Koenig to Gehrig. Bottomley knocked a home run into the right field stands. Meusel backed up to the stands to take Hafey's fly. Harper fouled out to Dugan. One run, one hit, no errors.

New York—Sherdel threw out Meusel at first. Durocher struck out. Dugan was safe at first when Maranville fumbled his grounder. Hoyt flied out to Harper. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING
St. Louis—Wilson lifted a fly to Paschal. Orsatti, batting for Maranville, walked. Pinch-hitting for Sherdel, Holm flied out to Paschal. Douthitt fanned. He objected to the umpire that he was not in the batter's box, but to no avail. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Johnson went in to pitch for St. Louis and Thevenow took Maranville's place at shortstop. Hoyt out on a fly to center field. High tossed out Paschal at first. Koenig singled over second. Ruth singled through Thevenow, Koenig advancing to second. Gehrig singled to right, bringing in Koenig. Ruth taking second. Meusel popped to Thevenow. One run, three hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING
St. Louis—High struck out. Frisch hit sharply past third, but Koenig backed him up, made a marvelous stop and threw to first without looking. The throw was wide but Gehrig made a fine catch and Frisch was out. Bottomley poked a single to right. Ruth caught Hafey's fly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SHIP IN DISTRESS IS REPORTED SAFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Dutch freighter Caelaeno was proceeding to port without assistance today after sending an SOS yesterday.

Immediately after receiving the SOS the Hamburg-American liner Albatross reported that it had gone to the aid of the Caelaeno. No further word has been received from either ship, other than the radio message which the Radio Corporation of America got from the Caelaeno. That message said the vessel was steaming in "without assistance."

EXAMINER PRAISES
STATE DEPARTMENT
OF WILBERFORCE U.

D. G. Brown, state examiner, who is making the annual examination and audit at the state department, Wilberforce University, has the following to say of the conditions in this department:

"About five years ago I made an examination in this department. I wish to say, however, that I find conditions to be in a much improved and more satisfactory state in every way. The change is a complete revelation to me in every way. There is a change in the whole atmosphere. I find a different feeling, better tone, more co-operation. I find the plant in splendid condition, well kept and maintained. I find also a greater number of Ohio students in this department than ever before. In looking over the grounds there is a very outstanding change everywhere, that one could not believe unless he could see it. Prof. Richard Bundy is superintendent and Clark C. Jenkins is business manager of this department."

Mr. Brown has been at the school about three weeks making an examination of the books, vouchers and other documents of the C. N. I. department. His statement is a compliment to Supt. Bundy and Mr. Jenkins, the business manager. Both put on a special campaign in Ohio for students this summer. The enrollment is said to be the largest in the history of the C. N. I. department and the three dormitories are about taxed to their capacity.

Xenia Resident Describes How New Konjola Restored His

Thousands of men and women in Xenia have been relieved of many of the worst forms of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel misery through the use of this celebrated new Konjola medicine, and thousands of others in this city are still suffering from these ailments, but every day more and more of these same sufferers are turning to Konjola for relief. Hundreds of statements have been published, many from this city, in which is told how Konjola restored a new state of health. Just a few days ago Mr. Ernest Kersey, 4 South Miller Avenue, Xenia, made the following statement to the Konjola Man at the Gallaher Drug Store, 33 East Main St., this city, where he is explaining the merits of Konjola:

"I will always recommend Konjola to anyone who is suffering," said Mr. Kersey, "because this medicine ended all trace of stomach and kidney trouble for me."

"For over two years my stomach and kidneys had caused me intense suffering. My kidneys were in a very bad state and each action showed traces of sugar and a yellowish-brown sediment. Due to the disordered condition of my stomach every bite of food formed gas that pressed against my heart. Quite often I became so dizzy that I fell to the floor. One day while in Sabina, Ohio, I fell twice to the street. My appetite left me and I had no desire to eat because of the suffering afterward. For more than six years I did not enjoy a complete night's sleep and always felt worn-out. You can better realize my condition when I say that I spent two years in Leesburg for treatment. Even then I never knew what health was and thought I would go through the rest of my life in this condition."

"Just about this time I started on the treatment of Konjola and this medicine worked wonders on my system. In an amazing short time I noticed a new feeling of health over my entire system. I wouldn't think of missing a dose and soon had completed the entire treatment. Now I want to tell everyone that I have received permanent relief from my health troubles. I am able to eat all kinds of food without the least after effect. The gas bloating and dizzy spells are ended. It is a pleasure to sit down to a meal because I know that I will receive the proper nourishment. Konjola also regulated my kidneys and banished the unhealthy color and sediment. In every way I have been benefited and now sleep just like a child. It is a pleasure to endorse such a medicine as Konjola."

The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher Drug Store, 33 East Main St., Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this medicine.

EXAMINER PRAISES
STATE DEPARTMENT
OF WILBERFORCE U.

D. G. Brown, state examiner, who is making the annual examination and audit at the state department, Wilberforce University, like the following to say of the conditions in this department:

"About five years ago I made an examination in this department. I wish to say, however, that I find conditions to be in a much improved and more satisfactory state in every way. The change is a complete revelation to me in every way. There is a change in the whole atmosphere. I find a different feeling, better tone, more cooperation. I find the plant in splendid condition, well kept and maintained. I find also a greater number of Ohio students in this department than ever before. In looking over the grounds there is a very outstanding change everywhere, that one could not believe unless he could see it. Prof. Richard Bundy is superintendent and Clark C. Jenkins is business manager of this department."

Mr. Brown has been at the school about three weeks making an examination of the books, vouchers and other documents of the C. N. I. department. His statement is a compliment to Supt. Bundy and Mr. Jenkins the business manager. Both put on a special campaign in Ohio for students this summer. The enrollment is said to be the largest in the history of the C. N. I. department and the three dormitories are about taxed to their capacity.

Xenia Resident Describes How New Konjola Restored His Health After Short Treatment

Thousands of men and women in Xenia have been relieved of many of the worst forms of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel miseries through the use of this celebrated new Konjola medicine, and thousands of others in this city are still suffering from these ailments, but every day more and more of these same sufferers are turning to Konjola for relief. Hundreds of statements have been published, many from this city, in which is told how Konjola restored a new state of health. Just a few days ago Mr. Ernest Kersey, 4 South Miller Avenue, Xenia, made the following statement to the Konjola Man at the Gallaher Drug Store, 33 East Main St., this city, where he is explaining the merits of Konjola:

"I will always recommend Konjola to anyone who is suffering," said Mr. Kersey, "because this medicine ended all trace of stomach and kidney trouble for me."

"For over two years my stomach and kidneys had caused me intense suffering. My kidneys were in a very bad state and each action showed traces of sugar and a yellowish-brown sediment. Due to the disordered condition of my stomach every bite of food formed gas that pressed against my heart. Quite often I became so dizzy that I fell to the floor. One day while in Sabina, Ohio, I fell twice to the street. My appetite left me and I had no desire to eat because of the suffering afterward. For more than six years I did not enjoy a complete night's sleep and always felt worn-out. You can better realize my condition when I say that I spent two years in Leeburg for treatment. Even then I never knew what health was and thought I would go through the rest of my life in this condition."

"Just about this time I started on the treatment of Konjola and this medicine worked wonders on my system. In an amazing short time I noticed a new feeling of health over my entire system. I wouldn't think of missing a dose and soon had completed the entire treatment. Now I want to tell everyone that I have received permanent relief from my health troubles. I am able to eat all kinds of food without the least after effect. The gas bloating and dizzy spells are ended. It is a pleasure to sit down to a meal because I know that I will receive the proper nourishment. Konjola also regulated my kidneys and banished the unhealthy color and sediment in every way I have been benefited and now sleep just like a child. It is a pleasure to endorse such a medicine as Konjola."

The Konjola Man is at the Gallaher Drug Store, 33 East Main St., Xenia, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this medicine. Adv.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. H. L. Sayre's Drug Store. Adv.

SUIT OF $1,175 DAMAGES FILED RESULT OF AUTO COLLISION

As a sequel to an auto collision on the Cincinnati Pike, two miles south of Xenia, September 29, William Schneider, 30, Xenia, has brought suit in Common Pleas Court for $1,175 damages against Paul Wieman, 421 S. Hague Ave., Columbus.

Schneider sets forth that he was driving toward Xenia and that the defendant, traveling in the opposite direction, tried to pass another car on the hillside. Schneider appeared over the brow of the hill and the collision resulted.

Declaring his auto was damaged to the extent it was reduced to a worthless mass of junk and that it was valued at $675, Schneider seeks recovery of this amount. The plaintiff also asks $500 for personal injuries sustained, asserting he was cut and bruised and had three teeth knocked out.

Attorney Frank L. Johnson represents the plaintiff.

"MONGOLISM" USED AS SUBJECT BEFORE MEDICAL SOCIETY

Demonstrating a case of "Mongolism" an American child born with Oriental features, Dr. H. C. Messenger, Xenia, discussed this interesting phase of medical study before the Greene County Medical Society at the regular meeting Thursday morning.

"Mongolism" is thought to be a throwback to the Mongolian ancestors, since the Caucasian race is declared by authorities to be a race development. Cases of "Mongolism" are often noted and such a child was used by Dr. Messenger to illustrate his talk.

Dr. A. C. Messenger, Dr. B. R. McClellan, Dr. C. G. McPherson of Xenia and Dr. M. I. Marsh, Cedarville, were appointed members of a committee to draw up resolutions on the recent deaths of Drs. D. E. Spahr and J. O. Stewart, veteran Greene County physicians.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE PRINCE OF PEACE—For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful Counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace.—Isa. 9:6 and 7.

PREVENTING FAKE INVESTMENTS

Not so many years ago many people seemed to have a grudge against banks and bankers. They believed the bankers exacted a tribute from the people, and grew rich out of the people's money.

Most people get so many free services out of banks nowadays, that this feeling has mostly disappeared. The banks give an enormous amount of free advice about investment, business management and handling of money affairs. If we had to pay for that counsel as we have to pay in some fields, a heavy bill would be charged us. But they look at it in a generous way, that when they save money for people, much of that money saved goes on deposit with them.

An enormous amount of money is wasted annually by being lost in worthless investments. There is no excuse for such losses, when most of them would have been saved if people had only gone to their home town bankers and asked advice.

When those slick salesmen come around and want you to put your money in that stock that is going to make you rich in a short time, your banker will show you any flaws that exist in the proposition.

The banks of today are more prosperous than ever before, and one reason is that they are doing more constructive advertising. Old-fashioned bank advertisements commonly consisted mostly of announcements of the location of their place of business and lists of officers. But thousands of modern banks are using in their advertisements brief arguments in favor of thrift, economy and prudent investment. This advertising interests the people, draws money out of old stockings and puts it to work, gives people financial education, and increases bank resources.

RECALLING FORMER DAYS

Most of the exaggeration about the existing "evils of prohibition" will be found upon analysis due to failure of the complainants to look upon the present situation from the comparative standpoint. Many people are heard to say that "conditions are worse under prohibition than prior to it," without really giving a thought to what those pre-Volstead days actually were. In the current issue of "Signs of the Times," the editors have compiled discussions of the present day situation by eminent publicists and resurrected along with them pictorial reminiscences of the old saloon days.

The keynote of the edition is sounded by Willis J. Abbot, editor of the "Christian Science Monitor," whose article is entitled, "Do You Remember the Old Saloon?" in which he says in preface: "If each individual would base his judgment upon what he actually sees and knows—not upon what he reads and hears—concerning prohibition, public sentiment would be far more united in approval of that great social and economic reform than it is today."

RELIEF IN PRISON

Stanley Bush, Detroit bank clerk, stole $18,000 in 1919. For nine years he wandered from place to place, pursued by conscience and by fear. These twin terrors made him more miserable than police officers. And finally conscience and fear got him. He came back to Detroit, confessed his crime and entered jail with a sigh of relief. Sometimes you can beat everybody but yourself.

PRACTICAL WOMEN

Women are, for the most part, practical creatures. (Note that Commander Byrd could get a hundred times more men than he needed to go to the South Pole with him. Men are stimulated by the thought of hardship and adventure. They come in droves to ask for the chance to go with an exploring party. Not so with women. Few ask to go. They don't even write, asking for a place in the expedition.

"Women think it is a foolish stunt," said Byrd, before he left. Women can't understand why they should leave warm radiators, bath tubs, comfortable homes.

Women have always been more practical than men—less idealistic.

BABIES AND BREAD

A college president says the world problem a hundred years hence may concern itself with a race between babies and bread. Increase in babies and increase in foodstuffs. Will the bread play out and the babies starve? Will there be too many people to feed? The college president need not worry. Science has already proved by study of the animal world that there will be no reproduction beyond the point where there is food enough to sustain life.

Certain laws work, whether man is interested in having them work or not. There are certain laws that are absolute and dependable. When the world gets so full there isn't food enough, the birth rate will come down. That's automatic. It just does.

AN INVESTIGATION

Too bad we on earth can not have the benefit of an unprejudiced examination on the part of a competent committee from another planet. We would like to be told whether much that passes for high civilization is civilization at all. We would like to know whether we really can expect to find as much happiness, living the crowded, complex, complicated lives we live, as we could expect if we lived simpler lives—nearer the soil, more like the barbarian used to live and in some parts of the world still does.

Perhaps we are on the wrong track with our houses and lots and fast motors and telephones and railway trains. Only a fair examination over a long period by a visiting delegation from another planet could really determine.

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK—This season of the year, folk ask what plays to see, or rather, what plays are on. I never know what plays to recommend, even if it were advisable to do so.

Ziegfeld has three with music (of course): "Show Boat," "Rain or Shine," and "The Three Musketeers."

Sammy Lee, who staged "Show Boat's" dances has a musical of his own, "Cross My Heart." Earl Carroll has a "Vanities." George White has a "Scandals."

Joe Cook is at his antics in "Rain or Shine." "Blackbirds" displays negro talent.

Then, there's an operetta based on Chopin's life, with some of his music, "White Lilacs."

And Lew Fields, of old Weber & Fields' fame, but a producer now, presents "A Musical Narrative," Chee-Chee, based on a novel, "The Son of the Grand Eunuch."

Likewise, there is "The New Moon," another operetta with a large cast.

Arthur Hammerstein is presenting a novelty musical, "Good Boy."

While a musical comedy based on Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee" continues from last season.

"Good News" is another to carry over.

And the Grand Street Foolies is quitting only to resume with some of its ensembles of past seasons.

Also, there's a musical called "Luckee Girl."

Of the non-musical attractions on the spoken stage, the Theater Guild's O'Neill play, "The Strange Interlude," holds over from last season. (This play begins at 5:30 in the evening, with an hour off for dinner.)

Jed Harris, of "Broadway" fame) has two attractions, "The Front Page," newspaper play, and "The Royal Family," of a noted family of actors.

Richard Bennett acts in "Jarnegan," based on a Jim Tully novel.

Of the movies, George Jessell's in "The War Song" and June Walker in "The Bachelor Father" (from last season and soon quitting).

Al Woods has Pay Bainter and Guthrie McClintic (himself a producer) in "Jealousy," by Eugene Walter (famous a generation ago) from the French of Louis Verneuil; and a melodrama, "Fast Life."

For a few weeks Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor are appearing here in "The Big Fight," "Ringside" is another prize fight play.

"The Silent House" is a mystery play.

"Gentlemen of the Press" is what its name indicates.

Roberta Arnold is trying "Adventure."

Willard Mack has written another, "Gang War."

Mae West portrays "Diamond Lil."

Then there are "The Great Power," "The Big Pond," "This Thing Called Love," "The Song Writer," "Heavy Traffic," with Mary Boland; "Nite Hostess," by Philip Dunning, a co-author of "Broadway," "The Ladder" (which gave away seats for a long, long time), and "Relations."

George M. Cohan has a Ring Lardner baseball play, "Elmer the Great," "By Request" (by the Nugents), and a musical, "Billie."

Frederick Lonsdale of England is represented by another artificial comedy of his type, "The High Road."

New openings include "The Command Performance" and a new chocolate production, "The Light of Asia."

Arthur Hopkins has an unusual play (which is not unusual for him) "Machinal"—pronounced Mack-in-al.

John Golden, another regular producer, has "Eva the Fifth."

And there are many more on the way.

Chocolate Cookies

If your family is as fond of chocolate as mine it will welcome a new chocolate cookie recipe. These cookies are easily made, so that even if your apartment is small, with one of the tiny kitchenettes so popular in cities these days, you can make them easily and in a short time.

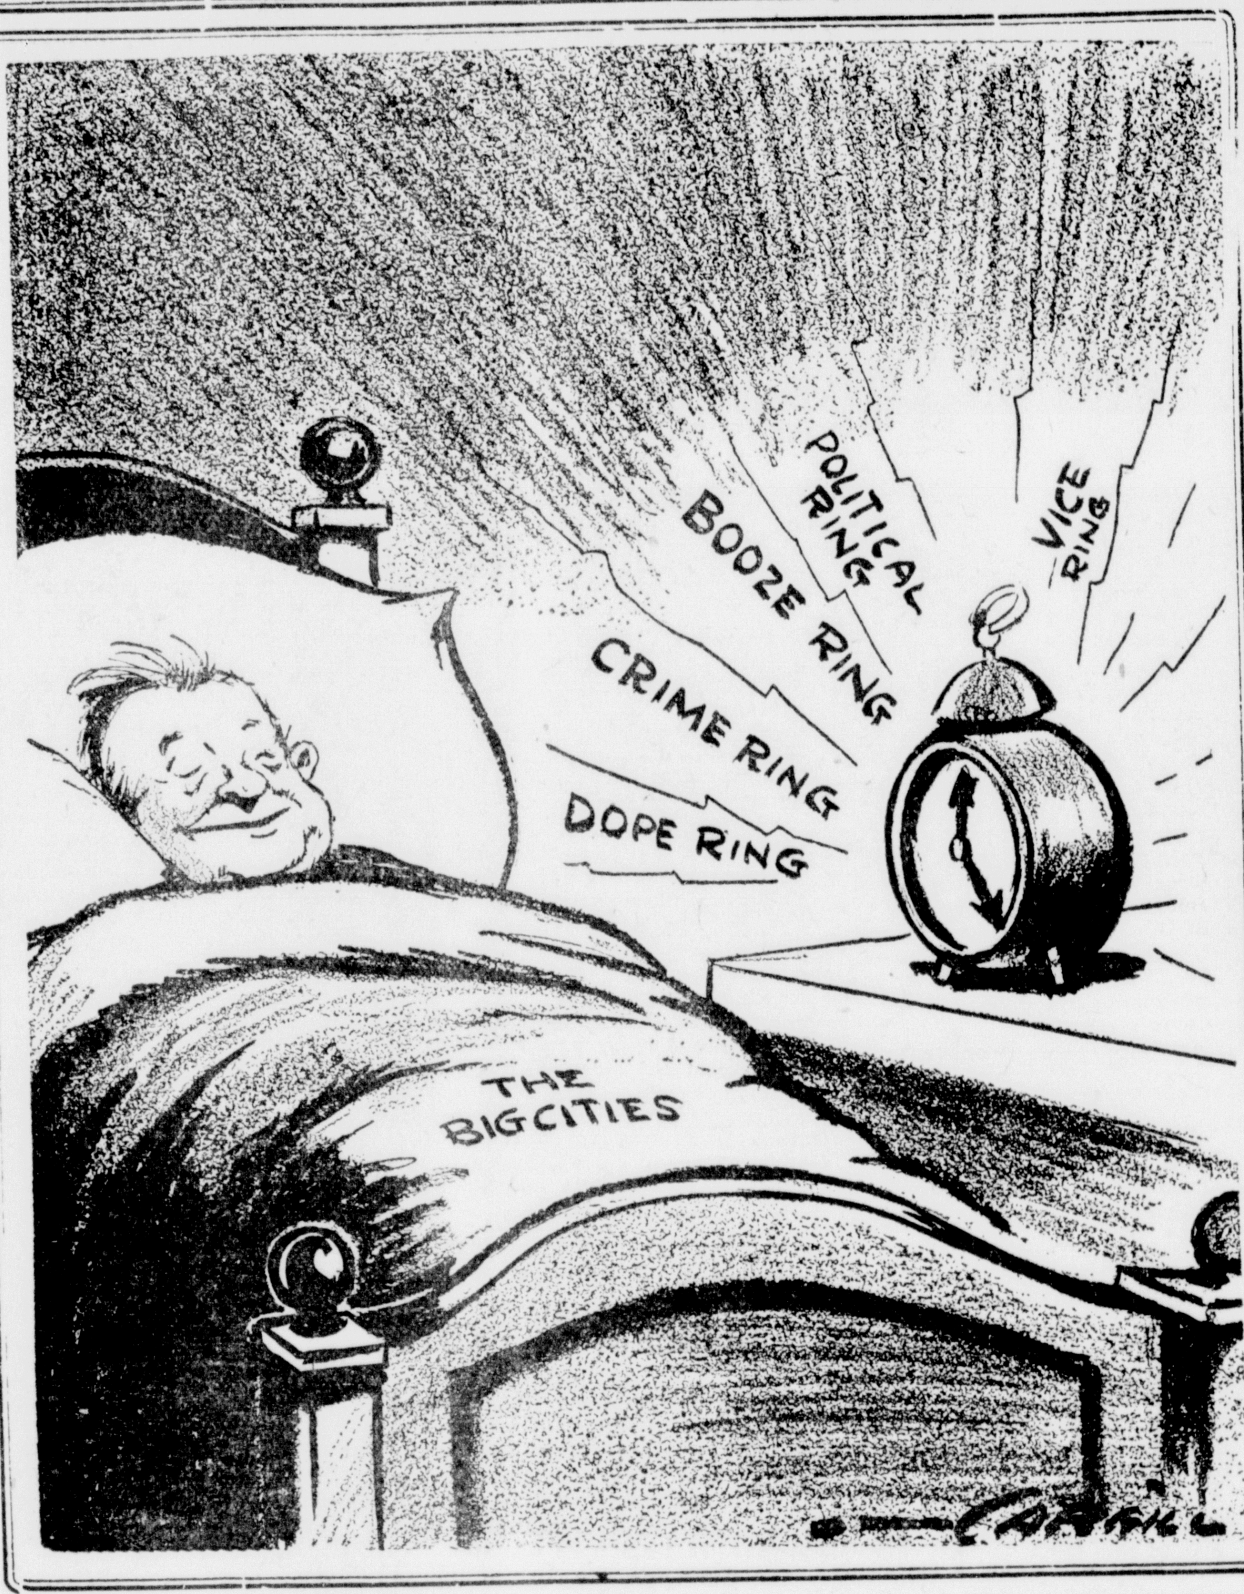

Today's Recipes.

Chocolate Cookies—Beat whites of three eggs to snow, add three-fourths of a cup of powdered sugar, one cup of ground sweet chocolate, one cup of walnuts, chopped; three tablespoons of flour. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven. This should make about one and one-half dozen.

Chocolate Stains—Chocolate stains can be removed from suits and dresses by slightly moistening borax and leaving it on the fabric for several hours. This, however, only applies to white materials, as the borax is apt to take the color out of poorly dyed materials.

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

After-Summer Bleaches

No matter how much you may have read upon the necessity for preventing bad cases of sunburn and the resultant tan and freckles, the chances are that autumn finds you with at least minor discolorations, and probably major ones. Probably when you are buying your new fall wardrobe you will have ample time to realize that however becoming a tan may be on the beach, it is not quite the thing for the social events which the winter always carries in its train. Bleaches must depend upon the result you wish to obtain. In the first place, we have all variations of tan to contend with, from the mildest to the nut brown, but not infrequently remains until late fall.

For the mild variety, try the following formulae. The first calls for infusions made from fresh parsley and horseradish. These are particularly good in removing light freckles. Another simple formula is to pour a cup of boiling water over a large bunch of parsley. Add one teaspoonful of fine powdered borax. Cool and use the liquid directly on the face. Horseradish infusion is made by pouring a cup of boiling water on two tablespoonfuls of freshly ground horseradish. Cool, strain and use the liquid.

INSOMNIA DUE TO ILL HEALTH OR TO AN OVER ACTIVE BRAIN

Insomnia
"I am troubled with insomnia. My wife died last year, and worry and despondency have pulled me down. I hear the clock strike every hour of the night. I don't wish to take dope. Is it possible to get some sleep in some other way?"

"For years everything I eat turns to gas, and after eating it seems to collect around my heart like a lump and makes me short of breath. I am compelled to sit down until it is over. Is there no permanent cure?"

Your insomnia, E., is no doubt due to your bad physical condition. Of course, it is impossible for me to say whether your unhappiness was the original cause of your indigestion—for, as we all know, the emotions do influence the digestion—or whether you have not been having a balanced diet, or whether you have some organic disease.

Insomnia that is due to ill health is hard to get rid of until the health is restored, and, of course, the lack of sleep helps to keep the ill health. You should go to a physician for a thorough check-up, including laboratory tests of blood, urine, etc. Perhaps he will prescribe some sedative medicines for you for a while. There are some that are not dangerous or habit forming, and sometimes it is necessary to take them to overcome the mental habit of insomnia.

Insomnia in those who are not in ill health is most frequently due to over-activity of the "thinking apparatus"—something in the past or future is of sufficient interest to keep the victim thinking of it and stimulating him to stay awake.

To remove a nut-brown tan would require a little stronger preparation. For this try magnesia and rose water made into a paste. Leave this on from fifteen to twenty minutes and wash off with water softened with oatmeal or almond meal. The oatmeal may be thrown loose into the water or tied in a little cheesecloth bag.

If you are still suffering from the irritation of sunburn, bathe with lime water and olive oil to which a small portion of boric acid is added. One part of lime water to two parts of oil, adding about 5 per cent boric acid. For severe cases of freckles and tan, the following formulae are worthy of trial. The first is a freckle bleach principally.

1. Sulpho-carbonate of zinc, one-half dram; glycerine, one and one-half ounces; rose water, four ounces; cologne water, three drams.

Shake the lotion thoroughly and apply with cotton.

2. Lactic acid, four ounces; elder flower water, two ounces; glycerine, three ounces; a tiny pinch of borax.

If these preparations seem strong, dilute with additional elder flower water and use good pasteurized cold cream after.

Do not attempt to mix these formulae yourself. Go to a good druggist and have him do it for you.

Kellygrams

A hotel man, who is also a philosopher, once made a remark to me that would apply to almost any business.

"The greatest mistake," he declared, "that is commonly made by employees and managers is to exert themselves more for the comfort of an old-time customer than for a new one. According to all rules of hospitality and logic, the person who should receive the most effort for his entertainment within one's door is the newcomer. In your own home you would not think of making a great fuss over a man who had been entertained there before, and more or less ignore another fellow who is receiving your hospitality for the first time. Yet in a hotel dining room the head waiter is most careful to seat the man whom he has seen before, and in most stores the clerks make more fuss over an old customer than one who is giving the store a first trial."

"Why, Cormorant, you may not believe it but all of my children have learned to walk in a few hours. It is fun to see the tiny things—downy little balls—gain strength. When first they are hatched they are weak and so wobbly that they can scarcely hold up their heads. Then slowly they begin to 'come to.'"

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON.—Capitol Hill, his little bit 'o cover! Not a wiggle! Not a peep! Not a sign of life out of him! Not on the job, is pretty well deserted these times.

Almost all the politicians are out on the firing line.

The door to only one out of the 96 suites in the senate office building, stood ajar when I looked in there the other day.

It was Thaddeus H. Caraway's door.

How happened it that Thad was sitting calmly in his office?—far from the grime and sweat and smoke of battle—with all his fellow-senators risking their precious political lives in the campaign trenches, on one side or the other.

Could it be that Senator Caraway was slacking?

Believe me, dear reader, far otherwise.

If any other half dozen senators, all put together, get as many scalps out of this 1928 presidential muck, as Thaddeus adds to his single collection, they will have good reason to congratulate themselves.

Senator Caraway, as all men know, is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat from Arkansas—not only pro-Alfred E. Smith on general party grounds, but a particularly ardent booster for the ticket because of the Houston convention's choice of his partner, Arkansas Senator, Joe Robinson.

Thad, however, is entirely too valuable to be wasted in mere promiscuous fighting.

T. H. Caraway is perhaps the most gifted sharpshooter in present-day public life. Any ordinary husky scrapper can do anyone work down in no-man's-land. Thaddeus' proper place is up a tree, camouflaged, sniping enemy generals.

Ever watch a super-sharpshooter doing his stuff?

How patiently he lies behind

It's A Cruel World, Indeed, for the Super-Sensitive

For those who are super-sensitive, who take offense where none is intended, it is indeed a cruel, cruel world. But for those who have a sense of proportion, who can see the other fellow's side, and who retain their sense of humor, it's not so bad. At any rate, it's the best we know, so let us resolve to give and take, and to keep our hearts in the right place—inside—not worn on the sleeve.

"Dear Virginia Lee: What do you think of this situation? I am willing to do anything in reason to straighten it out, but darned if I know what to make of it. It's a mother-in-law problem. Mine is generous and fine in lots of ways, but oh, such a bragger and so demanding of attention and affection. Her little family treats her like a queen, and her slightest whim is law. I am of an indomitable temper, not emotional, but I have tried to 'make' of my mother-in-law. Recently I had to give up my home

PREVENTING FAKE INVESTMENTS

Not so many years ago many people seemed to have a grudge against banks and bankers. They believed the bankers exacted a tribute from the people, and grew rich out of the people's money.

Most people get so many free services out of banks nowadays, that this feeling has mostly disappeared. The banks give an enormous amount of free advice about investment, business management and handling of money affairs. If we had to pay for that counsel as we have to pay in some fields, a heavy bill would be charged us. But they look at it in a generous way, that when they save money for people, much of that money saved goes on deposit with them.

An enormous amount of money is wasted annually by being lost in worthless investments. There is no excuse for such losses, when most of them would have been saved if people had only gone to their home town bankers and asked advice.

When those slick salesmen come around and want you to put your money in that stock that is going to make you rich in a short time, your banker will show you any flaws that exist in the proposition.

The banks of today are more prosperous than ever before, and one reason is that they are doing more constructive advertising. Old-fashioned bank advertisements commonly consisted mostly of announcements of the location of their place of business and lists of officers. But thousands of modern banks are using in their advertisements brief arguments in favor of thrift, economy and prudent investment. This advertising interests the people, draws money out of old stockings and puts it to work, gives people financial education, and increases bank resources.

RECALLING FORMER DAYS

Most of the exaggeration about the existing "evils of prohibition" will be found upon analysis due to failure of the complainants to look upon the present situation from the comparative standpoint. Many people are heard to say that "conditions are worse under prohibition than prior to it," without really giving a thought to what those pre-Volstead days actually were. In the current issue of "Signs of the Times," the editors have compiled discussions of the present day situation by eminent publicists and resurrected along with them pictorial reminiscences of the old saloon days.

The keynote of the edition is sounded by Willis J. Abbot, editor of the "Christian Science Monitor," whose article is entitled, "Do You Remember the Old Saloon?" in which he says in preface: "If each individual would base his judgment upon what he actually sees and knows—not upon what he reads and hears—concerning prohibition, public sentiment would be far more united in approval of that great social and economic reform than it is today."

RELIEF IN PRISON

Stanley Bush, Detroit bank clerk, stole $18,000 in 1919. For nine years he wandered from place to place, pursued by conscience and by fear. These twin terrors made him more miserable than police officers. And finally conscience and fear got him. He came back to Detroit, confessed his crime and entered jail with a sigh of relief. Sometimes you can beat everybody but yourself.

PRACTICAL WOMEN

Women are, for the most part, practical creatures. (Note that Commander Byrd could get a hundred times more men than he needed to go to the South Pole with him. Men are stimulated by the thought of hardship and adventure. They come in droves to ask for the chance to go with an exploring party. Not so with women. Few ask to go. They don't even write, asking for a place in the expedition.)

"Women think it is a foolish stunt," said Byrd, before he left. Women can't understand why they should leave warm radiators, bath tubs, comfortable homes.

Women have always been more practical than men—less idealistic.

BABIES AND BREAD

A college president says the world problem a hundred years hence may concern itself with a race between babies and bread. Increase in babies and increase in foodstuffs. Will the bread play out and the babies starve? Will there be too many people to feed? The college president need not worry. Science has already proved by study of life animal world that there will be no reproduction beyond the point where there is food enough to sustain life.

Certain laws work, whether man is interested in having them work or not. There are certain laws that are absolute and dependable. When the world gets so full there isn't food enough, the birth rate will come down. That's automatic. It just does.

AN INVESTIGATION

Too bad we on earth can not have the benefit of an unprejudiced examination on the part of a competent committee from another planet. We would like to be told whether much that passes for high civilization is civilization at all. We would like to know whether we really can expect to find as much happiness, living the crowded, complex, complicated lives we live, as we could expect if we lived simpler lives—nearer the soil, more like the barbarian used to live and in some parts of the world still does.

Perhaps we are on the wrong track with our houses and lots and fast motors and telephones and railway trains. Only a fair examination over a long period by a visiting delegation from another planet could really determine.

New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK.—This season of the year, folk ask what plays to see, or rather, what plays are on. I never know what plays to recommend, even if it were advisable to do so.

Ziegfeld has three with music (of course): "Show Boat," "Rosalia" and "The Three Musketeers."

Sammy Lee, who staged "Show Boat's" dances has a musical of his own, "Cross My Heart."

Earl Carroll has a "Vanities." George White has a "Scandals."

Joe Cook is at his antics in "Rain or Shine."

"Blackbirds" displays negro talent.

Then, there's an operetta based on Chopin's life, with some of his music, "White Lilacs."

And Lew Fields, of old Weber & Fields' fame, but a producer now, presents "a musical narrative," "Chee-Chee," based on a novel, "The Son of the Grand Eunuch."

Likewise, there is "The New Moon," another operetta with a large cast.

Arthur Hammerstein is presenting a novelty musical, "Good Boy."

While a musical comedy based on Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee" continues from last season.

"Good News" is another to carry over.

And the Grand Street Follies is quitting only to resume with some of the ensembles of past seasons.

Also, there's a musical called "Luckee Girl."

Of the non-musical attractions on the spoken stage, the Theater Guild's O'Neill play, "The Strange Interlude," holds over from last season. (This play begins at 5:30 in the evening, with an hour off for dinner.)

Jed Harris, of "Broadway" fame, has two attractions, "The Front Page," newspaper play, and "The Royal Family," of a third family of actors.

Richard Bennett acts in "Jarnegan," based on a Jim Tully novel of the movies. George Jessell's in "The War Song" and June Walker is in "The Bachelor Father" (from last season and soon quitting).

Al Woods has Fay Bainter and Guthrie McClintic (himself a producer) in "Jealousy," by Eugene Walter (famous a generation ago) from the French of Louis Verneuil; and a melodrama, "Fast Life."

For a few weeks Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor are appearing here in "The Big Fight."

"Ringside" is another prize fight play.

"The Silent House" is a mystery play.

"Gentlemen of the Press" is what its name indicates.

Robert Arnold is trying "Adventure."

Willard Mack has written another, "Gang War."

Mae West portrays "Diamond Lil."

Then there are "The Great Power," "The Big Pond," "This Thing Called Love," "The Song Writer," "Honey Traffic," with Mary Boland; "Nite Hostess," by Philip Dunning, a co-author of "Broadway," "The Ladder" (which gave away seats for a long, long time), and "Relations."

George M. Cohan has a Ring Lardner baseball play, "Elmer the Great," "By Request" (by the Nugs) and a musical, "Billie."

Frederick Lonsdale of England is represented by another artificial comedy of his type, "The High Road."

New offerings include "The Command Performance" and a Walter Hampden production, "The Light of Asia."

Arthur Hopkins has an unusual play (which is not unusual for him) "Machinal"—pronounced Mack-in-al.

John Golden, another regular producer, has "Eva the Fifth."

And there are many more on the way.

Chocolate Cookies

If your family is as fond of chocolate as mine it will welcome a new chocolate cookie recipe. These cookies are easily made, so that even if your apartment is small, with one of the tiny kitchenettes so popular in cities these days, you can make them easily and in a short time.

Today's Recipes.

Chocolate Cookies.—Beat whites of three eggs to snow, add three-fourths of a cup of powdered sugar, one cup of ground sweet chocolate, one cup of walnuts, chopped; three tablespoons of flour. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven. This should make about one and one-half dozen.

Chocolate Stains.—Can be removed from suits and dresses by slightly moistening borax and leaving it on the fabric for several hours. This, however, only applies to white materials, as the borax is not to take the color out of poorly dyed materials.

How to Achieve Beauty

After-Summer Bleaches

No matter how much you may have read upon the necessity for preventing bad cases of sunburn and the resultant tan and freckles, the chances are that autumn finds you with at least minor discolorations, and probably major ones. Probably when you are buying your new fall wardrobe you will have ample time to realize that however becoming a tan may be on the beach, it is not quite the thing for the social events which the winter always carries in its train.

Bleaches must depend upon the result you wish to obtain. In the first place, we have all variations of tan to contend with, from the mildest to the nut brown, which not infrequently remains until late fall.

For the mild variety, try the following formulae. The first calls for infusions made from fresh parsley and horseradish. These are particularly good in removing light freckles. Another simple formula is to pour a cup of boiling water over a large bunch of parsley. Add one teaspoonful of fine powdered borax. Cool and use the liquid directly on the face. Horseradish infusion is made by pouring a cup of boiling water on two tablespoonfuls of freshly ground horseradish. Cool, strain and use the liquid.

New offerings include "The Command Performance" and a Walter Hampden production, "The Light of Asia."

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

A hotel man, who is also a philosopher, once made a remark to me that would apply to almost any business.

"The greatest mistake," he declared, "that is commonly made by employees and managers is to exert themselves more for the comfort of an old-time customer than for a new one. According to all rules of hospitality and logic, the person who should receive the most effort for his entertainment within one's door is the newcomer. In your own home you would not think of making a great fuss over a man who had been entertained there before, and more or less ignore another fellow who is receiving your hospitality for the first time. Yet in a hotel dining room the head waiter is most careful to seat the man whom he has seen before, and in most stores the clerks make more fuss over an old customer than one who is giving the store a first trial."

1. Sulpho-carbonate of zinc, one-half dram; glycerine, one and one-half ounces; rose water, four ounces; cologne water, three drams.

2. Lactic acid, four ounces; elder flower water, two ounces; glycerine, three ounces; a tiny pinch of borax.

If these preparations seem strong, dilute with additional elder flower water and use good pasteurized cold cream after. Do not attempt to mix these formulae yourself. Go to a good druggist and have him do it for you.

When I am troubled with sleeplessness, I frequently practice counting backward slowly, beginning at 999 and seeing myself paint the figures in large outlines on a blackboard. This divides my attention so that it is not concentrated on the subject that interests me, and finally eradicates it. Others find that repeating remembered verses or reading a fairly dull book will have the same effect. Some are greatly stimulated by tea, coffee, or nicotine, and these may have to be omitted, especially after noon.

Naturally, you must be comfortable physically—not too warm or too cold—and a hot water bag to the feet if they are cold—and relaxed. Remember that complete relaxation is also a rest for the nervous system, and do not allow yourself to worry over the fact that you can not go to sleep. In your case, put that clock where you can't hear it, and stop checking up on yourself.

If one is hungry, then a drink of hot milk or hot soup or a small amount of solid food should be taken, for it is difficult to go to sleep if hungry.

Again I must advise you to go to a competent physician, F. Meanwhile, perhaps our article on Balanced Diet will help you. Remember that life is for the living, and you cannot recall your wife, and she would not want you to grieve so.

Mrs. C.—It would be absolutely impossible for a doctor to diagnose a skin disease without a personal examination of the patient, except, perhaps, a simple case of hives, with its coming and going and itching, or simple eczema.

"Quake! quake-quake!" sighed a third Gull. "How sad I feel, Brother. My eyes smart and I am not sure whether a drop of salt water has gotten into them or whether it is a tear."

"Oh, that I were safe home again! Just about now the babies would be running about playing in the sand. It does not take a Gull child long to use its legs. I can tell you."

"Why, Cormorant, you may not believe it but all of my children have learned to walk in a few hours. It is fun to see them tiny things—downy little ball-gain strength. When first they are hatched they are weak and wobbly that they can scarcely hold up their heads. Then slowly they begin to 'come to.' Cocking their heads, they look up at you with first one bright eye and then another. Then slowly they stretch their little necks, try to flap their specks of wings and at last they discover they have legs. How pleased they are! They want to find out what the queer things are for. They try you may have some general upset of the system as a cause of your condition, for the skin not infrequently does give manifestations of internal disorders, so the thing for you to do is to go to a physician. Do that, Mrs. C., and stop trying to treat yourself.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON.—Capitol Hill, where congress functions when on the job, is pretty well deserted these times.

Almost all the politicians are out on the firing line.

The door to only one out of the 96 suites in the senate office building, stood ajar when I looked in there the other day.

It was Thaddeus H. Caraway's door.

How happened it that Thad was sitting calmly in his office—far from the grime and sweat and smoke of battle—with all his fellow-senators risking their precious political lives in the campaign trenches, on one side or the other.

Could it be that Senator Caraway was slacking?

Believe me, dear reader, far otherwise.

If any other half dozen senators, all put together, get as many scalps out of this 1928 presidential muck, as Thaddeus adds to his single collection, they will have good reason to congratulate themselves.

Senator Caraway, as all men know, is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat from Arkansas—not only pro-Alfred E. Smith on general party grounds, but a particularly ardent booster for the ticket because of the Houston convention's choice of his partner, Arkansas-senator, Joe Robinson, as Smith's running mate.

Thad, however, is entirely too valuable to be wasted in mere promiscuous fighting.

T. H. Caraway is perhaps the most gifted sharpshooter in present-day public life. Any ordinary husky scraper can do bayonet work down in no-man's-land. Thaddeus' proper place is up a tree, camouflaged, sniping enemy generals.

Ever watch a super-sharpshooter doing his stuff?

How patiently he lies behind his little bit 'o' cover! Not a wiggle! Not a peep! Not a sign of life out of him!—not for hours, maybe. Yet he is as tense as a bird dog. He hardly winks. Never for a second does his attention waver. Gee! what concentration!

Away off in the distance just a leaf stirs. No untrained eye ever would notice it.

But our sharpshooter—quicker than greased lightning!—bingo!

Then—faint from the opposite camp—the yell, "Stretch! heave!"

Politically this is Thad's stunt.

He has a perfect genius for sarcasm.

Neither on the campaign stump nor in the senate, when in session, does he go in much for long speech-making.

Why should he get up?—he evidently argues—and say a lot about things for other fellows to shoot at? Far better to let them do the talking, while he fires hot shot into THEIR oratory.

An occasional deadly question or a few murderous words of comment!—these are Thad Caraway's ammunition.

Taking cracks, as frequently as possible, at the Republican party organization, here in Washington, is Thad's present campaign assignment. No aerie could be more convenient for him to do it from than Capitol Hill office

CENTRAL HIGH MAKES SECOND APPEARANCE WITH HOME TEAM

Having stubbed its collective toes in the season's curtain raiser with Washington C. H. last Friday, Xenia Central High School grid-ers are trying to iron out this week some of the kinks developed in the inaugural contest.

Many mistakes made apparent in the Washington game will be missing in the remainder of the games on the schedule as a result of vigorous practices this week.

Central has what to all intents and purposes should be a practice game with the O. S. and S. O. Home cadet football eleven at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Friday afternoon, but the Blue and White team may be hard pushed to win.

Several years ago the Home made a surprisingly good showing by holding a strong Xenia eleven to a 7 to 0 score and if lightning may be said to strike twice in the same place and history repeats itself, Coach Wilson's hopefuls may encounter plenty of opposition.

In any event, the Home encounter will serve one purpose—that of obtaining an insight on the relative strength of Xenia and Wilmington High this season. The Quakers beat the Home 20 to 9 in the opening game two weeks ago and Xenia meets Wilmington later in the season.

The football season ticket sale for Central's five home games, four of which are the major contests of the schedule, is progressing unsatisfactorily. Students have the ticket sale in charge and to date only about fifty student and thirty adult season tickets have been disposed of.

With experience gained in the first few games, Xenia should have a winning team this season and has as good a chance as any rival to win the championship of the Miami Valley League.

The local eleven is deserving of public support at its home games and school authorities are confident that with the approach of the opening home game, the season ticket sale will materially increase.

DAYTON SHAMROCKS MAY FURNISH LANGS STIFF OPPOSITION

The Lang Chevrolets began practice Wednesday night in preparation for their game with the South Park Shamrocks of Dayton at Ringer Field next Sunday.

Assistant Coach Seal sent his charges through an exceptionally hard drill, devoting much time to the backfield, which did not show up to expectations in Miamisburg game last week. The locals displayed a good defense, however, and held the Burgers time and again with a few more hard workouts the Lang eleven should round into a first class aggregation.

The South Park Shamrocks have one of the best semi-pro elevens in Dayton this season. They have games booked with the Iron-ton Tanks, Cincinnati Guards, Sandusky Maroons and other high class grid teams. If the locals can score a win over them it would be a feather in their cap and they could then be right in line to take on the best of the semi-pros. The Dayton outfit had little trouble in winning last week over West Milton which team it beat 24 to 0. The Miamisburg team only beat West Milton 6 to 0, so according to the dope, the Shamrocks look to be a much better club than the Burgers.

PUNTS AND PASSES

Beginning Thursday, and continuing every Thursday throughout the football season this fall, Xenia football fans will be invited to make their personal predictions for The Gazette as to how some of the leading college football games over the country will turn out the following Saturday.

Many Xenians are close followers of the college gridiron battles every week and although at this stage of the season most of the stronger teams are engaging weaker opponents, the task of picking winners will become increasingly difficult as the season progresses.

The forecasts of some Xenia fan will be published every Thursday regarding games the succeeding Saturday.

To start the ball rolling for Saturday, here are the predictions of William LeSourd, W. Market St., former Ohio Wesleyan University athlete:

Clemson to defeat Alabama Poly. Clemson to defeat St. Mary's. Nebraska to defeat Iowa State. Loyola (C) to defeat Loyola (N. O.). Michigan to defeat Ohio Wesleyan. New York University to defeat W. Va. Wesleyan. Northwestern to defeat Butler. Ohio State to defeat Wittenberg. Stanford to defeat Oregon. Pennsylvania to defeat Franklin Marshall.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED BY PENNSY WRECK

Traffic on the Cincinnati Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad was blocked in the west end yards, Thursday, when three cars were wrecked and four others damaged when a Cincinnati-Columbus east-bound freight buckled when the emergency air was applied by trainmen at 5:30 a. m.

Two coal cars and a box car buckled and broke in two when the air brake was suddenly applied. Four other box cars left the track and were wrecked. The accident occurred near the target house, just west of the coal dock.

No one was hurt in the wreck. Trainmen were busy through the remainder of the day clearing the right of way.

BODY OF HOMELESS STRANGER MAY BE PLACED IN VAULT HERE

Pending the outcome of efforts to locate relatives and friends of Mel E. Beck, former hotel manager, who died in poverty at Esplanade Hospital Monday, J. H. Whitmer, funeral director, declared the body would be removed to Woodland Cemetery Thursday afternoon and placed in a vault for several weeks.

It was learned that Sheriff Ohmer Tate expected to request the Croysey Radio Corp. at Cincinnati, which operates radio stations WJW and WSAL, to broadcast Thursday the circumstances of Beck's death and an appeal for relatives or friends to communicate with Xenians who have interested themselves in the case.

It is now believed that Beck may have formerly been connected with a seventeen-room hotel located at Tuxedo, a small suburb of New York City. A wire received Wednesday night from the chief of police of New York City was to the effect that efforts to locate Beck's son-in-law have been unavailing. Information imparted by Beck before he died had indicated he was connected with the Tuxedo Club at New York. Investigation developed there is no club there by that name.

When no answer was received to a telegram sent Tuesday to Mrs. R. W. Wallace at Mineral Wells, Texas, dispatched on the advice of J. W. Duff, of the McBurnett Hotel Co. at San Angelo, Texas, Xenians again wired Duff for information as to why they had been referred to Mrs. Wallace. An answer was Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of Xenia, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon on the 19th day of October, 1928, for the purchase of bonds of said City in the aggregate sum of Two Thousand Dollars, ($2,000.00), dated September 1, 1928. Said bonds shall be in the denomination of Five Hundred Dollars, ($500.00), each, and shall bear interest at the rate of five and one-half (5½) percent per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first days of September and March of each year. Said bonds will be due and payable as follows: Five Hundred Dollars, ($500.00), payable in each of the years September 1, 1929 to September 1, 1933, both inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of providing a fund for the extension of water works plant of the City of Xenia, Ohio, and under authority of the laws of Ohio, particularly the Uniform Bond Act of the General Code, and in accordance with a certain ordinance of said City, entitled, "An ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds of the City of Xenia, Ohio, for the purpose of the extension of its water plant by the construction of aqueducts, extension of building and incidental connections, for the proper supply of water to the corporation and the inhabitants thereof."

Bidders may present a bid for such bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest than herein fixed, conditioned that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one-quarter of one (¼) percent or multiple thereof.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder at not less than par and accrued interest.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of the bid and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids to be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Xenia, Ohio, for two per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth within ten (10) days from the time of award. Said check to be retained by said City if said condition is not fulfilled.

The right is reserved by the City of Xenia to reject any and all bids.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Two Thousand Dollars, ($2,000.00), Water Works Extension Bonds." Dated this September 25th, 1928.

T. H. ZELL, Auditor.

THOMAS DYE SPEAKS TO DEMOCRATS HERE

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and breaks the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Growing Children
sometimes require a tonic as do their elders*

GIVE your child the right chance to develop, and you will not regret it in later years.

Many children become under-nourished due to lack of appetite. Keep the appetite keen. Food nourishes the body and makes it grow.

Also watch Nature's warning for changes in the system. Skin troubles—pimples, boils and that sallow complexion—all foretell a body weakness.

In such cases, S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It improves the appetite; helps Nature build rich, red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

Children like S.S.S. It is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

Many drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

The physical welfare of the child is being given more attention by school authorities. Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to a nervousness and rundown condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red blood cells.

CENTRAL HIGH MAKES SECOND APPEARANCE WITH HOME TEAM

Having stubbed its collective toe in the season's curtain raiser with Washington C. H. last Friday Xenia Central High School grid-ers are trying to iron out this week some of the kinks developed in the inaugural contest.

Many mistakes made apparent in the Washington game will be missing in the remainder of the games on the schedule as a result of vigorous practices this week.

Central has what to all intents and purposes should be a practice game with the O. S. and S. O. Home cadet football eleven at Cox

DAYTON SHAMROCKS MAY FURNISH LANGS STIFF OPPOSITION

The Lang Chevroleta began practice Wednesday night in preparation for their game with the South Park Shamrocks of Dayton at Ringer Field next Sunday.

Assistant Coach Seal sent his charges through an exceptionally hard drill, devoting much time to the backfield, which did not show up to expectations in Miamiburg game last week. The locals displayed a good defense, however, and held the Burgers time and again with a few more hard workouts the Lang eleven should round into a first class aggregation.

The South Park Shamrocks have one of the best semi-pro eleven in Dayton this season. They have games booked with the Irons Tanks, Cincinnati Guards, Sandusky Maroons and other high class grid teams. If the locals can score a win over them it would be a feather in their cap and they would then be right in line to take on the best of the semi-pro. The Dayton outfit had little trouble in winning last week over West Milton which team it beat 24 to 0. The Miamiburg team only beat West Milton 6 to 0, so according to the dope, the Shamrocks look to be a much better club than the Burgers.

Memorial Athletic Field Friday afternoon but the Blue and White team may be hard pushed to win. Several years ago the Home made a surprisingly good showing by holding a strong Xenia eleven to a 7 to 0 score and if lightning may be said to strike twice in the same place and history repeats itself, Coach Wilson's hopefuls may encounter plenty of opposition.

In any event, the Home encounter will serve one purpose—that of obtaining an insight on the relative strength of Xenia and Wilmington High this season. The Quakers beat the Home 20 to 0 in the opening game two weeks ago and Xenia meets Wilmington later in the season.

Friday's contest will start at 3 o'clock. Cox, Ohio State University, will referee with Richards, Cedarville, as umpire.

The football season ticket sale for Central's five home games, four of which are the major contests on the schedule, is progressing unsatisfactorily. Students have the ticket sale in charge and to date only about fifty student and thirty adult season tickets have been disposed of.

With experience gained in the first few games, Xenia should have a winning team this season and has as good a chance as any up to expectations in Miamiburg game last week. The locals displayed a good defense, however, and held the Burgers time and again with a few more hard workouts the Lang eleven should round into a first class aggregation.

PUNTS AND PASSES

Beginning Thursday, and continuing every Thursday throughout the football season this fall, Xenia football fans will be invited to make their personal predictions for The Gazette as to how some of the leading college football games over the country will turn out the following Saturday.

Many Xenians are close followers of the college gridiron battles every week and although at this stage of the season most of the stronger teams are engaging weaker opponents, the task of picking winners will become increasingly difficult as the season progresses.

The forecasts of some Xenia fan will be published every Thursday regarding games the succeeding Saturday. To start the ball rolling for Saturday, here are the predictions of William LeSourd, W. Market St., former Ohio Wesleyan University athlete:

Clemson to defeat Alabama Poly.

California to defeat St. Mary's.

Nebraska to defeat Iowa State.

Loyola (C) to defeat Loyola (N).

Michigan to defeat Ohio Wesleyan.

New York University to defeat W. Va. Wesleyan.

Northwestern to defeat Butler.

Ohio State to defeat Wittenberg.

Stanford to defeat Oregon.

Pennsylvania to defeat Franklin Marshall.

Purdue to defeat DePaul.

Southern California to defeat Oregon Aggies.

Boston College to defeat Navy.

Virginia to defeat South Carolina.

Wisconsin to defeat Notre Dame.

Yale to defeat Maine.

Xenia Central High School is also favored to wallop the O. S. and S. O. Home Friday.

Cedarville plays Lanier Twp. High School football teams will battle for supremacy on the Cedarville gridiron Friday afternoon, October 5 at 3 o'clock.

Inasmuch as the two schools have about the same student enrollment and an equal amount of talent, a hard contest is expected.

Cedarville's football schedule this fall includes only two home games. It is announced.

Campbells Come To Pay Tribute To Memory Of Sturdy Ancestor Here

A family paused Wednesday to pay tribute to a sturdy ancestor, when members of the Campbell clan gathered in Bethel Cemetery, near Mount Holly, to unveil a monument at the grave of John and Hester Campbell, pioneers of their family line.

With elaborate ceremony these loyal descendants participated in a program unique in its purpose. Relatives from Kansas, from New York and California joined with those living in this section until nearly 200 were gathered for the ceremonies.

The feature of the program was the unveiling of the monument on which were two tablets, one giving the names of those buried in the plot, the other telling the purpose and occasion of the memorial. The latter was presented and dedicated by the Wichita, Kan., chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The memorial presentation address was made by Melville Clark Campbell, Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. C. C. Stanley, of the Wichita D. A. R. chapter, dedicated the tablet given by that organization. Mrs. Herbert Backus, Columbus, Ohio, also spoke. Mrs. J. C. Campbell, Indianapolis, Ind., accepted the memorial on behalf of the descendants. Mrs. J. C. Harper, Wichita, Kan., was another speaker and others present at the exercises included Mrs. John Craig, New York City; Mrs. Peter Burnham, Wichita and Mrs. L. D. Temple, Upland, Calif.

M. C. Campbell, Wichita, donor of the monument, is the oldest living descendant of John and Hester Campbell bearing the Campbell name. His address follows in part: "We are assembled today upon this occasion for the purpose of doing honor to a great name, to a great father and a great mother, the remains of whom are beneath us. We are here to commemorate the name which has made our fatherland famous—the Campbells of Scotland. They achieved great distinction as military men and likewise as naval officers. They formed armies of Campbells in defense of their homes and their country. In time of peace they were empire builders. They were vast land owners and tillers of the soil. They were in a way responsible for the best breeds of livestock—the Clydesdale horses, as well as horses used in the chase—the Durham cattle, known in this country as the Short-horns, and were the real 'Shepherds of the Hills and Highlands' in fact as well as in story.

"A sacred old Bible, the earliest Campbell family Bible in existence, belonged to Samuel Campbell, whose remains are also buried in this plot. According to this record, of which we have a certified copy with us here, 'Duncan Campbell, leader of the Black Duncan Clan never conquered' was the great-grandfather of our John, followed by his son Douglas—the grandfather of John and his son Cornelius or Neal—the father of John.

"About the year 1756 Cornelius or Neal conceived the idea of seeking a home for himself and family in that which was known as the 'new world'—later known as the United States of America. Following that decision he gathered his effects and family of five children (his wife having died in Scotland) and embarked on the ship Caladonia, according to tradition, and set out for the new world.

"I have a vivid recollection of my father telling me that their landing place was the east Jersey shore. We have found no authentic record of the father of John, our great-grandfather. Cornelius, according to tradition, relates to us that he returned to the sea on an expedition to the West Indies and perished.

"The first authentic record we have of his children was the marriage records of Mary Campbell and John Clark, which occurred after June, 1766 and that of John Campbell and Hester Clark, which took place before August, 1769, in York County, Pa., according to Pennsylvania Quaker record. We have reasons to believe that these children were cared for by Henry and Elizabeth Clark, Quakers, of York County, Pa., who by reason of this marriage became our maternal great-great-grandfather and mother.

"To this marriage of John and Hester Clark Campbell, James, their first child, was born in Pennsylvania. (This James lies buried in this plot, also his wife, Elizabeth Parry Campbell.) Soon after the birth of the first child James, the families of Campbells and Clarks determined to seek a home in a more salubrious climate and migrated to South Carolina, locating on Padgett Creek and Tiger River in a wilderness which later became Union District and later Union County. They evidently passed through a very much attractive country in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia than they found in South Carolina.

"A very few years after their arrival in that country their peaceful lives were disturbed by the outbreak of the Revolutionary War. Living in a Quaker environment, they were loathe to participate—until their homes were threatened by the armies. This John, after thoroughly reviewing the situation, decided to join forces with the Americas, believing that they were right in demanding their liberty. He forsook his home and plantation and opposed the soldiers of the Crown, becoming a member of the militia of 'Ninety-Six' district of South Carolina under Col. Thos. Brandon, who was a neighbor of his and fought with Col. Brandon in Scottish style till the enemy was conquered.

"During the period of their life in South Carolina, John and Hester Clark Campbell reared a family of eleven children, one of whom, a daughter, Mary Campbell Little, with Henry and Elizabeth Clark and John Clark, father, mother and brother of Hester Clark Campbell, are buried in the old Quaker Burying Ground on Padgett Creek.

"Following the years following the war, the existence of human slavery became so obnoxious to these liberty loving people that they determined, in 1803, to seek homes in a free state and determined upon Ohio and this spot upon which we now stand and the locality surrounding us.

"It appears that the spirit of empire building remained with the Scotch blood. The father and sons, namely, James, Henry, Samuel, Jonathan and John and the daughters, Elizabeth Martindale, Lillace Hurley, Rachel Compton, Owen, Hester Waldrup and Rebecca Allen, accumulated lands around this locality, builded homes and made farms. And I am immensely pleased that our ancestors used such fine judgment in selecting homes for this is certainly a beautiful and productive country in which to live.

"The pioneer spirit has not subsided. Following the death of this great father, John Campbell, in 1824, the sons and some of the daughters with their husbands, sought homes in the farther West, Fountain and Warren Counties, Indiana. My grandfather, Henry, located near Attica. All the sons and the majority of the descendants of my grandfather, Henry Campbell, became landowners and farm and live-stock operators. According to the accumulated information all other lines of descendants of John Campbell have been primarily land owners and farmers and livestock owners.

"My dear friends and relatives, as I stated in the beginning, we are here to do honor to a great name. I was taught through all my early life to revere our ancestral name. I have always done so and do today. My love for the ancestral name and my love for this great father have been my inspiration to erect this monument to his memory and in his honor. For I consider that the rearing and maintaining of so large a family a century ago and doing it in so respectable a manner proves him one of God's noblemen.

"I want to impress upon you the reverence that you should have for our ancestral name and our ancestors, for the reason that but for them we would have been deprived of existence.

"It is my supreme pleasure to have been able to provide this memorial in his honor and I am pleased to bestow this upon the association of the descendants of John Campbell, and want to assure you that it is a source of joy and great pleasure for me to be with you on this memorable occasion."

Are You Ready When your Children Cry for it

BABY has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is a vegetable product. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueller pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea which must be checked without delay. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Looks and Acts like a Costly Car because it's built like a costly car

The only Essex point in common with cars in its price field—is price. There is little in either appearance or performance to distinguish it from many a costlier car.

In size, it possesses the advantage of compactness without sacrifice of passenger quarters or riding comfort. It steers as easily as any car you have ever driven. There is a quickness and nimbleness in its motor action that will make some costlier cars you have driven seem slow and sluggish. These qualities are lasting.

With whatever costly car detail you compare Essex you will be impressed by its high standard in design, material and workmanship.

Many exclusive and patented features contribute to these Essex advantages—among them being its high-compression Super-Six motor, which to our belief is the most powerful and efficient automobile motor of its size in the world.

Won't you examine and drive the Essex, whether as a prospective buyer or as one interested in knowing why it is the choice car in its price field as proved by sales?

The Theater

Pausing in their glowing tributes to the ability of Al Jolson, mammy songster, for his work in his latest picture, "The Singing Fool," Manhattan critics are calling attention to a new Jackie Coogan.

The new "Jackie" is three-year-old David Lee, who in the words of one critic, "escapes artificiality so completely that a hypersensitive cinemaddict feels like an intruder during the scenes between him and Al."

As was the case in "The Jazz Singer" Jolson is scoring a complete hit with his latest "talkie". It is one of the few talking pictures that have met with success, both financially and with the approval of theater patrons. Josephine Dunn, the little girl who used to play collegiate parts, has the role opposite Al and Reed Howes has the other male lead.

Another wrecked romance in the film colony that is surprising cinema addicts, as did that of Norma Talmadge and Joe Schenck and others, comes with the announcement that Lewis S. Stone and Florence Oakley have agreed to disagree. They were married in 1920 and have been looked upon as contented, if that estate is possible in Hollywood. Miss Oakley is billing a vaudeville engagement in San Francisco.

Ethel Barrymore will open her latest play "The Kingdom of God" in her own theater, The Ethel Barrymore Theater, in New York, late in October. "White Lilacs" now playing at the Shubert, New York, and based on the romance of Frederic Chopin, has met with the approval of the Church and Drama Association of New York.

Nuptials Thwarted

Italian plans for the marriage of Princess Giovanna, daughter of King Victor Emanuel, and Ahmet Zogu, king of Albania, have been hindered by Moslem marriage customs. In 1912 Zogu's parents completed the financial arrangements necessary to enable their son to marry the daughter of Shekvet Verlaci, Bey of Elbassan, powerful Albanian noble. Although Ahmet never has claimed his bride, Moslems consider the preliminary negotiations binding.

The Theater

Pausing in their glowing tributes to the ability of Al Jolson, mammy singer, for his work in his latest picture, "The Singing Fool," Mannattan critics are calling attention to a new Jackie Coogan.

The new "Jackie" is three-year-old David Lee, who in the words of one critic, "escapes artificiality so completely that a hypersensitive cinemaddict feels like an intruder during the scenes between him and Al."

As was the case in "The Jazz Singer" Jolson is starring a complete hit with his latest "talkie." It is one of the few talking pictures that have met with success, both financially and with the approval of theater patrons. Josephine Dunn, the little girl who used to play collegiate parts, has the role opposite Al and Reed Hovos has the other male lead.

Another wrecked romance in the film colony that is surprising cinema editors, as did that of Norma Talmadge and Joe Schenck and others, comes with the announcement that Lewis S. Stone and Florence Oakley have agreed to disagree. They were married in 1920 and have been looked upon as contented, if that estate is possible in Hollywood. Miss Oakley is billing a vaudeville engagement in San Francisco.

Ethel Barrymore will open her latest play "The Kingdom of God" in her own theater, The Ethel Barrymore Theater, in New York, late in October. "White Lilacs" now playing at the Shubert, New York, and based on the romance of Frederic Chopin, has met with the approval of the Church and Drama Association of New York.
